FIM Trial World Championships & Prizes

2020 Calendars, UPDATE 20 MAY

In relation with the ongoing Coronavirus disease (COVID-19) pandemic and the associated travelling restrictions the FIM, the relevant national federations and local organisers have agreed to take the following decisions regarding the 2020 FIM Trial World Championship calendar:

The Czech Republic and Great Britain events announced as postponed some weeks ago have now been cancelled in 2020.

Due to the continued uncertainties surrounding the decisions of many governments regarding transportation of the people and materials, plus the economical issues for the majority of the parties involved who are mainly based in Europe, and after consultation between all the parties, the FIM, the Japanese Motorcycling Federation (MFJ) and the local organiser, Mobilityland regret to announce that it will not be possible to host the TrialGP Japan in 2020.

For the same reasons, The Trial des Nations scheduled to be held in Gouveia, Portugal on 12-13 September has been cancelled.

The FIM is also working in collaboration with the national federations and organisers to create a new 2020 calendar, including new dates for Andorra, Italy, France and Spain - none of which will be held before September. Thanks to the kind co-operation and understanding of all key stakeholders we hope to be able to announce a revised calendar in the next few weeks.
